Toeniskoetter Construction Creates New Pediatric Dental Suite

Now that the drilling is done at 515 South Drive, Suite 17, in Mountain View, the office is prepared for more drilling – and flossing and brushing. Toeniskoetter Construction recently finished work on the construction of Growing Smiles Pediatric Dentistry, the dental practice of Shahram Fazilat, DDS.

“Opening my first office with Toeniskoetter has been a pleasant experience. I cannot talk enough about their amazing work ethic and great communication throughout the whole experience. They paid attention to detail and made me feel at ease. I am extremely happy with the outcome of my office and would recommend Toeniskoetter to anyone!” Dr. Fazilat said.

“Every dentist wants a workspace that is efficient,” said Dan Amend, President of Toeniskoetter Construction. “But a dental office also needs to be welcoming and soothing to young patients who might find themselves facing an anxiety-ridden experience.

Toeniskoetter Construction created a space that is as efficient as it is inviting for Dr. Fazilat’s patients.”

Toeniskoetter Construction has experience renovating medical offices and facilities throughout the South Bay, including Physicians Skin and Weight Centers in Campbell, Dr. Fu in Mountain View and Hunter Laboratories in Campbell.

“Medical is one of the specialized areas that Toeniskoetter Construction concentrates on,” said project superintendent Ken Ruff. “I’m a licensed building inspector, so I know the American Dental Association codes very well. Overall, working in tight spaces, such as Dr. Fazilat’s office, requires an awful lot of knowledge in codes to make sure you comply with everything.”

Toeniskoetter Construction gutted the 1,100-square-foot office space next to El Camino Hospital and reconfigured it to include a reception area, two private operatories and three dental stations in a common area. The results dispel the idea that medical environments have to be sterile in design. Toeniskoetter Construction painted the walls with vibrant colors, laid colorful flooring and constructed gently curved walls. The office required custom cabinetry, particularly in the receptionist’s area, where Toeniskoetter Construction built a special audio cabinet for children’s video games. Crews installed the electrical and pre-piping necessary to accommodate anticipated growth. •
